

Helping you manage a health condition, and remain at work.

Free and confidential healthcare support with rapid access to interventions and therapies if appropriate.

Working Health Services Scotland can help:

- employees of small businesses (less than 250 employees) and still attending work or absent from work (for any period of time).
- self-employed and still attending work or absent from work (for any period of time).

To register, or to find out more, call
0800 019 2211

Working Health Services
Scotland